Of Von Mackensen in Moldavia Has Railroad Town as Objective

ONLY 5 MI. FROM PANTZIN

Russians Forced to Retreat Back of River Sereth, the Last of Their Defensive Positions in That Region—Fourteen Hundred Prisoners Are Captured in That Vicinity

Events on the European battlefields are summarized from reports from captives to the Associated Press as follows:

Field Marshal von Mackensen is rapidly developing his attack north of Fokshani and already has succeeded in forcing a passage of the Putna, across which the Russians in southern Moldavia retreated after losing the Fokshani bridgehead position, protecting the Sereth line in this important central sector.

Von Mackensen's thrust here apparently has the railroad town of Pantzin for its objective, as Pantzin, which lies some 13 miles north of Fokshani, is on the short railway line from Terutich, linking the two north and south lines running through Moldavia behind the Russian front.

At last accounts the Teutonic forces were only some five miles from Pantzin, the character of which would interfere seriously with the movement of Russian troops and supplies to the railway running northwest through Ochna and virtually paralleling the Moldavian frontier lines.

While the German headquarters statement today only claims the gaining of a footing on the opposite bank of the Putna, immediately north of Fokshani, the Russians have been cleared entirely from the vicinity of that stream towards the southeast and have been forced to retreat back of the Sereth river itself, the last of their defensive positions along this line.

Nearer the Danube, Berlin indicates that stubborn counter-attacks have been made by the Russians, but declares the "Austro-German" positions have been maintained against these thrusts.

In the battle of the past two days the Teutonic armies have captured some 1450 prisoners, the 5,500 took in the previous operation around Fokshani.

Considerable importance is attached by the entente military commentators to the offensive the Russians have opened in the Riga region at the northern end of the Russian front, which is believed to have the capture of the important German base of Mitau for its objective. Berlin however, while conceding that the Russian attacks are developing notable strength, declares that the assaults along the line in this sector were without success.

SLAV ATTACK ON RIGA LINE DOES NOT SUCCEED

Berlin, Jan. 10.—(Wireless to Sayville.)—Renewed Russian attacks with stronger forces were made yesterday southwest of Riga, near the northern end of the Russo-Galician front. The war office announces that the efforts were without success.

Counter attacks made by the Russians yesterday along the northern Rumanian front were beaten back with heavy losses, it was announced officially. The Russians were driven back further along the Kasino valley. Teutonic troops advancing north of Fokshani gained a footing on the left bank of the Putna river.

POLICE

In Many Cities Search for Harry Thaw Wanted on Assault

WRONG MAN IS ARRESTED

Man in Custody Was Another Agent of Thaw's and Not Concerned in Alleged Horsewhipping of High School Boy—Thaw is Believed to Be in City of Pittsburgh

New York, Jan. 10.—With the police of many cities searching for Harry K. Thaw, wanted here to answer an indictment charging him with assaulting and kidnaping Frederick Gump, Jr., of Kansas City, Mo., it developed today that the man whom the police of Philadelphia have arrested is not George F. O'Byrnes, Thaw's bodyguard, alleged to have been involved in the enticement of Gump to New York last Christmas.

Frank P. Walsh, counsel for the Gump family, consulted this district attorney upon his return here today from Philadelphia. He informed the prosecutor that the man in custody in that city is Oliver Brower of Utica, N. Y. Brower aided Thaw in Utica last October when Thaw conducted a political campaign there against a supreme court justice who had denied the man who killed Stanford White a writ of habeas corpus during Thaw's legal fight to obtain his release from the Matteawan state hospital for the insane. According to Mr. Walsh's story to the prosecutor today, Thaw apparently left in Brower's care at a Philadelphia hotel, a number of letters and documents. One of these, according to the lawyer, is an agreement drawn up but not signed, whereby Gump set forth that he had no objection to being whipped. The charge against Thaw is that he lashed Gump with a whip on three occasions during Christmas night in Thaw's rooms in a New York hotel.

Brower is held in Philadelphia on a technical charge. He is not involved in the accusations mentioned in the indictment against Thaw and O'Byrnes, but acted, Mr. Walsh alleged, as Thaw's emissary after Thaw left New York subsequent to the escape of Gump from the hotel here. Thaw is understood to have sent Brower to look for Gump in the hope of preventing the youth from telling of the alleged incidents of Christmas night.

It was explained that Brower was at the hotel where Thaw stopped in Philadelphia last week and that Thaw left his papers in Brower's care, not believing the man would be questioned, if publicity was given to any story Gump might tell the authorities. This accounted for the belief that Brower was O'Byrnes when Brower was located with Thaw's papers in his possession.

Search for Thaw was particularly active in New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Washington. Thaw was known to have been in Philadelphia Monday night, it was said there he had left Monday night for Washington and that he had intended to leave Washington last night for his home in Pittsburgh.

Frank P. Walsh, formerly chairman of the federal commission on industrial relations, attorney for the boy's father, said that Thaw's acquaintance with Young Gump goes back to December, 1915. Thaw, he said, had written Gump a number of letters sent money and offered to pay his tuition at the Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh.

Evidence laid before the grand jury here recalled testimony presented at the hearing on Thaw's sanity at White Plains in July, 1909. A New York lodging house keeper said that Thaw before he killed Stanford White lashed girls with a dog whip in a room which he hired at her house.

THAW IN PITTSBURGH?

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 10.—Harry Thaw, indicted in New York yesterday for kidnaping and assault, Frederick Gump, Jr., of Kansas City, was believed early today to be at the Thaw home in Beechwood boulevard, this city. Members of the Thaw family would not say whether he arrived last night or early today and refused to answer all questions as to the probable length of his stay.

At an early hour today Captain Archibald MacKrell of the detective division of the Pittsburgh police had received no request from New York or Philadelphia to arrest Thaw. All telephone inquiries at the Thaw home were investigated and no visitors were admitted which tended to confirm the belief that Thaw had arrived here from Washington sometime during the night.

AT STROUDSBURG

Strodsburg, Pa., Jan. 10.—Harry K. Thaw, accompanied by two friends arrived here yesterday in an automobile from Philadelphia about noon and left at 1:30 for Seranton. The party remained here only long enough for luncheon at a hotel.

"Buffalo Bill", Famous Scout of Western Plains, Crosses the Great Divide

Denver, Colo., Jan. 10.—Colonel William Frederick Cody (Buffalo Bill), soldier, hunter and scout, died at 12:05 p. m. here today at the home of his sister.

With Colonel Cody when he died were his wife and daughter, who had hurried down from Cody, Wyoming, the family home, last week to be at his bedside, and his sister, Mrs. L. E. Decker of Denver.

Colonel Cody had been unconscious since this morning.

Col. William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill", hunter, soldier, scout and showman was for many years known to nearly every man, woman, boy and girl in America through his wild west show with which he toured this country and Europe. He was a picturesque type of the pioneer frontiersman and lived to see large cities built where he once hunted the buffalo and fought Indians.

Col. William F. Cody was born in Scott County, Iowa, February 26, 1846. His ancestral stock was Spanish, English and Irish. His parents moved west and took up a claim near Leavenworth, Kansas, then a frontier Indian post, when Cody was five years old. At ten years of age he found himself the head of the family owing to the death of his father who was killed in an encounter growing out of a dispute over the negro slave question. Young Cody's first employment was as a courier between the freight wagon trains operated between the Missouri river and the Rocky mountains. In turn he became wagon master, trapper, hunter, pony express rider and stage coach driver, all giving a varied experience in a school, the graduation from which left the scholar an adept in every possible line of frontier activity.

An exciting experience in the Union army as a soldier and subsequently as a confident and scout of his commanders in the desultory and guerrilla warfare of the southwest left him at its finish well known as an all around frontiersman, competent to advise, to guide and to lead. These qualities soon brought him to the attention of such distinguished commanders as Gen. W. T. Sherman, Lieut. Gen. Phil Sheridan and Generals Crook, Custer, Merritt, Carr, Royal, Miles, Dodge and others and secured his appointment as chief of scouts in the United States army during its numerous Indian campaigns in the west.

His career in this line identified him with the great fighting epoch between the red man and the white man waged by Gen. Sheridan after the Civil War that temporarily ended in 1876, but was effectively finished in the Ghost Dance war in the decisive battle of Wounded Knee in 1890-91 campaign with the Northern Sioux.

During the construction of the Union Pacific railroad young Cody attached himself to a camp of United States troops protecting the laborers and won his sobriquet of "Buffalo Bill" by taking a contract to supply the entire force with fresh Buffalo meat for a certain period, killing under one contract 4250 Buffaloes. On one occasion he killed the noted Cheyenne Chief Yellow Hand in the presence of Indians and troops.

He became known to juvenile America in the stories of western adventure written by B. Z. C. Judson, who wrote under the nom de plume of Ned Buntline.

With the advance of civilization, finding his occupation on the western plains gone, he went on the stage, where he remained several years, playing leading parts in dramas depicting life on the frontier. Later in association with Nate Salsbury, he organized his wild west show with which he toured this country for many years and on one occasion visited the principal cities of Europe, where he was warmly received and entertained by royalty.

He was elected to the Nebraska legislature in 1872.

Colonel Cody, in 1866 was married to Miss Louisa Frederici.

Report of Wood's Resolution Now Anticipated by Congressmen

PROPOSE WALL ST. PROBE

Question Now Being Considered is Whether to Investigate Lawson's General Charges Or Start a Broad Inquiry Into Stock Exchange—News Men Testify Today

Washington, January 10.—After another brief session today the house rules committee suspended public hearings on Representative Wood's resolution to investigate whether there was a stock market leak on President Wilson's peace note. Many congressmen believe the committee will report against an investigation.

Whether to recommend specific investigation of Lawson's general charges of stock exchange operation by government officials or a broad inquiry into the stock exchange is the question now being considered.

The course of the committee was not announced but there have been intimations that a majority felt the examination of Thomas W. Lawson had revealed nothing to warrant an investigation.

Some members contend that there is to be a general investigation of the New York stock exchange alleged operations of government officials thereon it should not be ordered on the Wood resolution but on a new one as the Wood resolution directs attention only to Lawson's allegations.

Lawson has told the committee that he would furnish names and amounts involving government officials in stock transactions if a special inquiry should be directed by the house.

No formal action was taken by the committee at its executive session. Members stated, however, that the Wood resolution probably would be adversely reported to the house.

With a view to determining the source of the information which caused Dow, Jones & Co. to carry a rumor on its ticker on December 20 that a peace note was coming, the house rules committee has subpoenaed C. W. Barron, head of the ticker service, it was announced today.

R. W. Bolling, a brother-in-law of President Wilson and a member of F. A. Connolly and company, brokers, Washington, was the first witness at today's hearing. He denied he had anything to do with a "leak."

"I have nothing to say," he said, "except that who ever is responsible for bringing my name into this, Representative Wood, I believe, might send me an apology at the same time that he sends one to Secretary Tamm."

"When did you receive your first information regarding the president's note?" Representative Henry asked.

"When I read it in the newspapers."

"Did you ever receive from any source," Representative Garrett asked, "any intimation of the president's so-called peace note in advance of its publication?"

"Absolutely not," Bolling replied. "Any other member of your firm receive such information?"

"Absolutely no member had any advance information."

Bolling said he had no knowledge of any official of the government or administration who had profited by stock transactions as a result of the peace note and was excused after a brief examination.

W. A. Crawford, head of the local bureau of Central News of America, which supplies news to financial America, a Wall street paper, read a confidential message he said he sent to his New York office, December 20, saying that a note was coming but that, according to Secretary Lansing, it was not a peace note nor a note for abdication.

"There was absolutely no leak in our service nor from any of its clients," said he.

Representative Harrison said he had examined the Central News tapes for December 20 and found nothing indicating that the confidence of Secretary Lansing had been violated. He read from the ticker report of that day several references to Lloyd George's speech in parliament and its effect on the market.

According to this ticker report it was the Lloyd George speech which affected the market that day.

Crawford read a statement declaring that central news was not the only news service with financial papers among its clients and he thought it fair since it had been "singled out" in the inquiry that this be known. The International News Service, he said he was "reliably informed" served the Dow Jones company and that the Associated Press served the New York Journal of commerce.

"You don't think any of them violated Secretary Lansing's confidence, do you?" asked Representative Bennett of New York.

"Oh, no," Crawford replied.

"Neither the United Press nor the Associated Press is connected with any ticker service, is it?" Representative Harrison continued.

"No," Crawford replied.

TAXING

System Probably Will Be Rebuilt by Legislature This Season

WARNES LAW RESTORED

Court Decision Repeals Parrett-Whittemore Law But Warnes Measure Has Same Faults and Will Not Stand Test in Court—Non-Partisan Measure Expected to Be Drafted

Columbus, Jan. 10.—James M. Cox returned to the governorship to find his Warnes tax law again in effect.

The Parrett-Whittemore law framed by the last legislature to repeal the Warnes law, was declared unconstitutional in its entirety yesterday by unanimous decision by the Ohio supreme court.

Advocates of the Warnes law, however, have little cause for joy at its restoration, because it is pointed out the Warnes law has the same defects as the other and if attacked in the courts would be declared unconstitutional.

This means the taxation system of Ohio will be the subject of legislation at the present general assembly, a thing not anticipated by either political party.

It is considered likely that an attempt will be made to draft a non-partisan measure for early consideration by the legislature. In order to be immediately effective such a measure will have to be declared an emergency act and to pass will require a two-thirds vote.

Repeal of Parrett-Whittemore law, under which assessments were made last summer, will not disturb the present duplicate. Property owners will pay taxes on valuations made by the defacto officers with valid duties.

The court held the act unconstitutional in its entirety, so numerous were the defects found. Only a short statement was made by the court.

The decision reversed the appellate and common-pleas courts of Cuyahoga county, both of which had held the law constitutional. The case was that of Willis R. Godfrey, taxpayer, seeking to enjoin E. C. O'Brien, county treasurer, and J. A. Zangerie, county auditor, from putting certain property in the duplicate and collecting taxes on it.

Although the law is declared unconstitutional, the property will go on the duplicate because it was put on by the assessor as de facto officers with valid duties.

Because no election will transpire between now and the time when the next assessment must be made, usually in April, the present elected (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3.)

COLD WAVE FOR OHIO VALLEY IS NEW FORECAST

Columbus, Jan. 10.—The United States weather bureau at Columbus this morning received the following cold wave warning from Washington:

"A pronounced cold wave will overspread the middle Atlantic and New England states, the Ohio Valley, the Lake Region and Tennessee within the next 24 to 36 hours and cold weather will be of several days duration in these regions."

HINTERLITER IS FOUND GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Oiney, Ills., Jan. 10.—The jury in the trial of Roy Hinterliter, a young farmer, for the murder of Elsie Rafter, his 17-year-old sweetheart, returned a verdict of manslaughter early today after having reported to the court three times for instruction during the early morning hours.

The punishment may be from one year to life imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Hinterliter confessed on the witness stand that the girl's death occurred last July during an attempt at an illegal operation while driving in a buggy with him, but asserted she had used the surgical instruments supplied by him, while he was not with her. He claimed the girl employed the instruments while he went to unhook the horse, tied about thirty feet away. He said when he returned to the girl she was unconscious. He believed she had fainted, but he was unable to revive her. He placed her in the buggy and drove to a hospital at Oiney, where a physician found that the girl was dead. The state contended that the death of the girl was caused by air bubbles forced into her veins for the purpose of relieving her condition.

WILSON SMILES AT SUFFRAGE PICKETS GUARDING GATES

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Jan. 10.—Woman suffragists today began their "silent picketing" of the White House. Twelve women from the congressional union for woman suffrage appeared at the two main gates of the White House grounds carrying suffrage banners inscribed: "Mr. President, what will you do for woman suffrage?"

White House officials said nothing would be done about it so long as the women created no disturbance or attempted to enter the White House. The White House police stood smilingly by as the women took their posts on the sidewalk just outside the entrance.

Each of the women wore a white, purple and yellow sash across her shoulders. They stood at attention, three on a side of each of the two main gates. Their banners could be read for more than a block.

The suffrage leaders announced that the picketing would be maintained from ten o'clock each morning until six o'clock in the evening. The "silent hours" will be relieved every three hours. The announced purpose of the picketing is to make it impossible for President Wilson to enter or leave the White House without being confronted with reminders of the suffrage cause.

Just before the pickets appeared this morning the president went out to golf.

Although groups of men and women quickly gathered about the pickets they refused to enter into any conversation.

President Wilson returned to the White House from the golf links and smiled as his automobile passed through a gate flanked by the silent sentinels who made no demonstration.

Six Comanche Indians from Oklahoma arrived at the White House while the suffragists were on guard. They stopped and viewed them with silent wonder. Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the Congressional Union brought the pickets to the White House and deployed them at their posts. She did not remain on guard herself.

Newark, Ohio, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

About now people get nervous prostration working for money with what to take a rest cure at the Southern winter resorts.

It is claimed that millions spent in the last election have never been reported, but of course the politicians are always urged to forget the past.

Formerly politicians used to have their ears to the ground, but since the recent Wall street leak they have them at the foreign relations committee door.

When the politicians claim that the President is usurping power, the trouble is sometimes that their cousin's husband did not get the postmaster'ship.

The scientists are said to be evenly divided on the question of daylight saving, but there is no such division of sentiment on the part of the producers of electric light.

Many people will spend their principal thought for the next few weeks
planning for a racket on Washington's birthday, the next holiday, and then wonder why they don't get along any faster in business.

One thing the paper makers can be sure of is that the producers who get the biggest possible prices in the present emergency won't get the highest possible business when the war is over and the paper buyer
again has his innings.

The Pacificers need not be alarmed
as they hear the tramp in our public halls of resounding feet, as it is not the growth of the country toward militarism, merely the degree team of the lodge rehearsing for the annual installation of officers.

In an editorial in last night's Advocate upon "The Gas Decision," a typographical error was made stating that an attempt had been made by the company to "extort 2 1/2 cents per 100 feet." This should have been 4 1/2 cents, which is the amount of rebate due each consumer
for a period of five years, from April 1911 to April 1916.

State Government.

The first half of January is a period when most of the states this year are inaugurating new administrations. If but a fraction of the wisdom that is being handed out in subaltern messages and legislative addresses could be realized in law and social practice, our states would make a long step toward Utopia.

Yet it is generally admitted that as a whole the state governments are a weak part of the American system.
In many of the legislatures there are large purchasable elements. In others the members have so little strength of character or individuality that they are swayed by the first breath of threat. To them their re-election is the one vital thing. They will support anything that helps to ward that end.

Let the people who criticize the Legislatures most severely are often the ones who won't do any public work themselves. Able business and professional men who spend their whole lives in dollar chasing and have no time for civic work, are not in position to criticize.

The situation would be helped if our citizens took a keener interest in the work of their legislators. The public should watch how their representatives vote. Where they line up on the side contrary to public interest and social morality, they should hear from the home district.
A few letters from indignant constituents have a mighty stimulating effect on weak backbones.

The extent of public interest in legislative work is pretty well measured by the space given by the newspapers to legislative doings.

Many of the editors say the public takes so little interest in its legislature that it does not pay to give much space to it. That indicates a lack of interest on the part of our citizenship. The doings of the legislature should be followed with such attention that the newspaper men

Did You Know
That "curfew" is derived from
"covrir," meaning "to cover" and
"feui," meaning "fire"? Curfew meant originally an appliance for covering the fire; the embers were heaped together at night and the cur-few placed over them to retard combustion and thus keep the fire until morning. William the Conqueror instituted the custom of ringing a bell
as a signal that fires were to be covered by curfews, lights, extinguished
and the populace to go to bed.

INTEREST

ON ESCROW FUND AMOUNTS TO $14,000 FROM WHICH SOME EXPENSES ARE PAID.

Court Will Fix Fee of Trustee Walter C. Metz to be Paid From Interest.

It will take at least two or three months before natural gas consumers in Newark will receive the rebate of 1-2 cents per thousand feet consumed and paid for during a period of five years. This rebate is due from the escrow fund created in 1911, of which Walter C. Metz, president of the Newark Trust company is trustee.

This delay is unavoidable, and will be necessitated by the vast amount of clerical work which will have to be done under the direction of the trustee, before the amounts due each consumer will be ascertained and made available for payment.

Some idea of the magnitude of this task may be realized when it is known what must be done. For instance, every month the gas company turned over to Mr. Metz a list of consumers and the amounts paid by each, from which 1-2 cents per thousand went into the trust fund.

There are about 7,000 upon this list, which will necessitate the opening up of that number of accounts, and this involves a mountain of detail work, which will have to be done. The status of the fund is as follows:

Amount to be paid to consumers by trustee, $194,568.32. Upon this amount there has been paid as interest, $14,000. From this interest has been paid the expenses of the trustee amounting to $7,300.

Total amount of accumulated interest, $6,700.

From this $6,700 there will have to be paid all expenses, including trustee's compensation, clerk hire, and many other incidental expenses connected with the law suit and the administration of the trusteeship.

The court costs in the case will have to be paid by the gas company, and it has been estimated they will amount to approximately $5,000. It is understood the record upon which the case was taken into the Supreme court of the United States cost about $1,300, but with these costs the escrow fund or the city has nothing to do.

The personal compensation of the trustee has been taken care of.

As to the fees to be paid to lawyers connected with the case, representing the city (which in fact means the consumers of gas), this matter has not been finally determined.

The work of F. A. Bolton, who began the original suit in 1911, continued after his term as solicitor expired and until the case was finally disposed of. For the work done during his term as solicitor his salary provided, but that done since will have to be paid for. Edward Kibler, Sr., was retained by Solicitor Ralph Norpell to assist in the case and his fee will have to be paid.

Solicitor Ralph Norpell has done splendid work, but receives his compensation from his salary, so that Bolton and Kibler are the only attorneys having unsettled claims.

These men probably will submit bills which will be examined by Solicitor Norpell, who either will O. K. them or leave it for a court to determine what reasonable compensation will be.

Mr. Norpell said this morning: "These lawyers should be well paid for their services, and I want this to be done. However, I want the amounts to be reasonable and no doubt they will be. It is my opinion, however, that these fees and all other expenses contracted during this rate case by the city, should be paid out of the interest that has accumulated upon the escrow fund. I believe it no more than equitable that the city as a whole should be reimbursed for whatever has been spent or is to be spent out of the public treasury in the prosecution of this case to successful issue."

"It is true the city of Newark was a party to the suit, but the case was originally brought and most admirably handled from first to last on behalf of the consumers of gas, a large proportion of the community it is true; but by no means the entire population.

"Had the gas company won the case, no consumer would have had to pay a penny, and I can conceive with difficulty why any one of small enough mental calibre to insist that the necessary expenses of the litigation should be borne by the public treasury, when there are several thousand dollars of interest accumulated upon the principal of the escrow fund.

"The public in general in view of the rate case just decided, has lost sight of two other proceedings, that were collateral but necessary, that the city prosecuted and paid for. One of these was a suit in court against the Newark and Logan companies, establishing their identity as one corporation in interest, and which resulted in preventing the shutting off of the supply of gas by the Logan company. The contract of the city was with the Newark company which had no gas, and it was essential to establish its identity with the Logan company to get any good out of the franchise.

"The other proceeding was brought before the public utilities commission to compel the Logan company to furnish an adequate supply of gas.

"The expenses of these were borne by the city as a whole, and I would not ask any reimbursement, but I again say that I think it but equitable that the interest upon the escrow fund should bear the expenses of the rate case.

"It should be understood that under no circumstances will the $194,568.32 principal be touched but only the interest.

"The prosecution of the rate case was a little different from one involving a question of general taxation. The suit was for the benefit of a certain class, whose franchise rights were in jeopardy. Not all people in Newark burn natural gas and therefore do not benefit one penny by the successful outcome of the case, while on the other hand the gas consumers get all the benefit and I believe realize the equity of my contention, especially in view of the fact that this money was procured for them without effort or expense on their part, and had the case been lost they would have been no worse off than before it was begun."

Amount to be paid to consumers by trustee, $194,568.32. Upon this amount there has been paid as interest, $14,000. From this interest has been paid the expenses of the trustee amounting to $7,300.

Total amount of accumulated interest, $6,700.

From this $6,700 there will have to be paid all expenses, including trustee's compensation, clerk hire, and many other incidental expenses connected with the law suit and the administration of the trusteeship.

The court costs in the case will have to be paid by the gas company, and it has been estimated they will amount to approximately $5,000. It is understood the record upon which the case was taken into the Supreme court of the United States cost about $1,300, but with these costs the escrow fund or the city has nothing to do.

One of these was a suit in court against the Newark and Logan companies, establishing their identity as one corporation in interest, and which resulted in preventing the shutting off of the supply of gas by the Logan company. The contract of the city was with the Newark company which had no gas, and it was essential to establish its identity with the Logan company to get any good out of the franchise.

The other proceeding was brought before the public utilities commission to compel the Logan company to furnish an adequate supply of gas.

The expenses of these were borne by the city as a whole, and I would not ask any reimbursement, but I again say that I think it but equitable that the interest upon the escrow fund should bear the expenses of the rate case.

It should be understood that under no circumstances will the $194,568.32 principal be touched but only the interest.

The prosecution of the rate case was a little different from one involving a question of general taxation. The suit was for the benefit of a certain class, whose franchise rights were in jeopardy. SOLDIERS

IN FRENCH HOSPITALS SEND THANKS TO GRANVILLE WOMEN FOR CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

Comfort Pillows and Surprise Bags Delight French Warriors Recovering From Wounds—Interpreter is Required.

[Special to The Advocate]
Granville, January 10.—Special interest attached to the meeting of the A. F. F. W. Tuesday, January 9, by reason of the letters from Paris, and cards of acknowledgement from several of the hospitals which had received Christmas boxes from the American committee. These cards of thanks were read by Prof. Odebrecht of the French department who brought a large map of France and pointed out the location of each hospital named. A great number of these cards came from Pau, in western France, where Prof. Odebrecht said his mother and his maternal grandfather were born—a neighborhood made familiar to him in recent visits. Most of these hospitals are located at a great distance from the front, and the use of the comfort pillows by the thousands is emphasized. The surprise bags sent for Christmas presents afforded as much delight to the men as do the stockings filled by Santa Claus for small children. A rising vote of thanks was tendered Prof. Odebrecht for his translation of the cards and for the handsome tribute he paid the French nation, as an introduction to these soldiers' letters.

Mrs. Fred McCollum, served coffee at noon for those who attended the morning session. About thirty were present in the afternoon and these workers turned out 23 comfort pillows complete; 5 minor pillows, all of which required bushels of clippings for filling; 1 comfort bag; 2 knitted sponges; 4 pyjama coats and 5 pairs of pyjama trousers. One dozen handkerchiefs were sent in, and the cash contributions amounted to $7.75. Every one should be present at the next meeting to help in deciding what to send in response to the new needs. One hundred thousand men have developed tuberculosis—war tuberculosis, and they need special attention. The New York committee on request has sent fifty pyjamas suits ready to be made by this committee.

Miss M. E. Penney, one of the faithful, brought as her guest, Mrs. Henry Montgomery of Hanover, who was interested in the working of this committee. Miss Marion Franklin, of Chillicothe, just arrived in Granville for the winter, was also present, as were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bell of Long Island, Mrs. Zimmer of Cadillac, Mich., Mrs. Frank James of the Newark road, and Miss Bessie Jones of the Lancaster road.

Columbus and Dayton People Approve "Outside" Cold Remedy

They Find the External Application, Vick's VapoRub Salve, the Best Treatment for Croup and Cold Troubles. It Replaces Harmful Internal Dosing, Poultices, Plasters, Flannel Jackets and Vapor Lamps.

You Just Rub It on Over Throat and Chest—Relieves by Inhalation and Absorption.

In 1911 the Southern remedy—Vick's VapoRub Salve, was introduced in Columbus and Dayton. Below are reports from two families who gave it a trial at that time.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, Mrs. J. V. Alkire, 1466 E. Rich Street, writes:—

"We are still using Vick's VapoRub with the same good results for a great many things—croup, colds in the head, sore throat, piles, sores and lame back. I think it is far quicker to use Vick's than to wait for results from internal medicine." Letter dated Feb. 21, 1916.

DAYTON, OHIO, Mr. F. Flax, 1623 Xenia Ave.:—

"It was during the winter of 1911 that I tried my first jar of Vick's VapoRub Salve from Burlett's drug store. My boy was then very much subject to croup, and I had tried numerous remedies without much success. Vick's works like magic. My wife spread the news among the neighbors, and now you could not induce us or our neighbors to be without a jar of Vick's VapoRub. From my own personal knowledge, in regard to catarrh and colds, I know it does the work and does it quickly by loosening the phlegm and giving you that free breathing, which is so anxious to obtain."

Dr. Roller Undertakes Big Contract in Thursday's Bout; Tackles Three Profs on Mat

Perhaps Paul Bowser is taking an unfair advantage of Dr. B. F. Roller, heavyweight wrestler, in his match here tomorrow night. Bowser is planning to send three professionals against the New York physician-wrestler-athlete, as well as two amateurs of ability. This is not intended as an intimation that Roller can not carry out his end of the agreement, which is to throw each of the five men once in an hour. It is merely another way of saying that the heavyweight professional might have figured that at least four of his opponents would be amateurs.

Besides Bowser himself, who will appear last against the big man, Ed Conley and Charles Aldrich, both of whom have appeared here before, will oppose Roller. Edna Frenier and John Heckleberry will be the two amateurs to be led to the slaughter.

For preliminaries in this event, Bowser has arranged to send Leslie Fishbaugh against "Weak" Whittier; Dale Slater against Albert Dobas and Roy Kerner against the best opponent available, who has not yet been selected.

Roller has sent word that he will be on the job sometime Thursday arriving probably at noon.

It is one of the few opportunities which will be offered to the Newark wrestling public to see a wrestler with a real national reputation. Dr. Roller has not depended entirely upon the athletic publications for his publicity and fame. Not a newspaper in the country has failed to give him publicity because of his general ability along all lines of athletics.

Markets

Chicago Grain.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Wheat prices rallied today from transient weakness due to inference that the German chancellor would soon make a new move to bring about peace.

Opening prices which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to 3/4 lower, with May at 1.35 1/4 to 1.37 and July at 1.50 1/4 to 1.52, were followed by a substantial 8-cent back all around but then a raise that in some cases showed a moderate net gain.

Prices closed nervous, 2 1/2c to 3 1/2c net lower, with May at 1.35 1/4 to 1.37 and July at 1.50 1/4 to 1.52.

Corn paralleled the action of wheat. Prices sagged a little further before after opening 1/4 to 1/2c off, the market running up 1/2c.

The close was unsettled at 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 net decline.

Trade in oats was entirely local.

Labour receipts of hogs throughout the wheat weakened provisions. Belgian relief inquiries though, counted to some extent as an offset.

Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle,
and ruins it.
The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.
One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily,
removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silkly, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

AUDITORIUM.
Clara Kimball Young.

The popularity of Clara Kimball Young has increased steadily since she left the stage in 1913 to become a motion picture actress, until today
she stands at the head of her profession, beloved by millions of picture "fans," a drawing card second to none and equalled by few. The prestige of this gifted player has not been affected by the craze for stage celebrities on the screen. She has stood competition with the most noted stage players in the world, advancing in favor with the public, gaining by comparison with the screen efforts of the famous thespians.

In the history of photoplays there is no more striking an instance of the reward for painstaking effort backed by an exceptional talent for expressing emotion and superlative physical beauty.
Miss Young's entrance to picture
work was unexpected and sudden.
She was doing well on the stage,
playing with the Orpheum Stock Company in Philadelphia until J.
Stuart Blackton of the Vitagraph happened to see her. He sent for her a small offer. With the foresight that has helped make her the great film star she is today, Miss Young recognized the possibility of a brilliant future in the "movies,"
and accepted the chance at a quarter of the salary she was then earning on the stage.

In a surprisingly short time she was playing leads in dramatic and comedy productions. Her early training in the famous Vitagraph
school she considers mainly responsible for her more recent triumphs.
Miss Young is a native of Benton Harbor, Mich. The daughter of distinguished players, Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Kimball, it was but natural that she should turn to the stage as soon as she had completed her education. Her first stage work was as a baby of three years, but she does not count that, dating her actual dramatic experience from the day
she stepped before the footlights in a Chicago stock company.

Miss Young will end her engagement at The Auditorium today in that great screen feature "The Foolish Virgin," by Thomas Dixon, author of "The Birth of a Nation." Despite the bad weather yesterday
large crowds saw this, her second picture at the head of her own company.

"Honor Thy Name."
Frank Keenan plays Charley Ray's
father again in "Honor Thy Name." Frank is beginning to think he might as well adopt the boy and be done with it. Nice kid, at that.
This play Frank cuts Charley out,
and wins his girls away from him.
Which is not a bit nice of a father,
any way you look at it.

In the cast with Mr. Keenan and Mr. Ray is seen Louise Glaum, the clever actress. This picture together with Chas. Murray in the two-reel Keystone comedy, "The Feathered Nest," and the 11th episode
"Crimson Stain Mystery" will be the Auditorium feature for next Friday.

"The Girl Without a Chance."
The characters and the situations of "The Girl Without a Chance," are presented without artificiality and in a manner that is perfectly logical, tense and with a good round measure of warm human sympathy which the hard-hearted police commissioner finds that had he been true to the principles taught him when a child, he would never have met the end as he did, when at his last moment, he learned that girl whose downfall he tried to cause was his own flesh and blood. No children under 16 admitted.

"Hello Paris."
"Hello, Paris" reaches into the heart of real show goes with its "Frenchie-Girlie" atmosphere and patrons of the Auditorium theatre,
where "Hello, Paris" will be seen
next Monday afternoon and evening, everyone will agree that the entertainment outclasses the classiest,
from curtain to curtain. "Hello Paris," with its never failing fountain of beauty girls of the French type, and music of the infectious brand, and its high lights of drollery and sparkles of wit, provides an entertainment that is actually a tonic
to restore youth.

Vivacious, dark-eyed beauties,
perfectly endowed by nature, have been selected for this big chorus of the show, and the book, music, dances and effects bringing upon striking foreground the capabilities
and the rich gifts bestowed upon these young women.
Among the many features of "Hello Paris" this season is the illuminated running board, which extends far into the orchestra circle and upon this the chorus comes out for a number of novel singing and dancing numbers, touched up with the latest of burlesque discoveries.

Eleanor Wilson, the "Smile Girl," compelling prima donna and George
A. Clark, the comedian, whose barbed humor makes the laughter continuous all the while he is on the stage, top the cast. Miss Wilson has a stunning wardrobe this season. The latest fashions, emphasized, make up this wardrobe, which is admitted to be the most extensive and elaborate in burlesque.

Mr. Clark, always in the van of comedians, has a part which affords
the greatest opportunity of his career and he handles it in his inimitable way.
In this supporting company are:
Beatrice Darline, the acrobatic sourette; George A. Clark, the irresistible comedian, one of the funniest comedians on the stage; George Douglas; Charles Fagan; and Helen Stewart, programmed as the "thinnest woman on the American stage."
Fred Hall, the English comedian.

Around this aggregation has been woven a show full of vim and go,
a budget of whistly music, chorus numbers to exploit beauty and a background of humor that is simple and epochal.
George Clark is the producer, and in stage and scenic effect he has kept the last pace which the other elements of the show have set. As an extra feature of the first act, Mr.

Clark has arranged a military ensemble and Scotch pipe number, with the complete complement of the girls costumed as lads and lassies.
"Dynamite" the kicking mule, is the extra added feature.

"Civilization."
The stupendous production "Civilization," comes to the Auditorium theatre on Jan. 16 and 17. "Civilization" epitomizes the teachings of the Bible and the horrors of war, and by reason of this fact, appeals to all classes of amusement seekers. The element of excitement dominates where the battles hold sway. In fact "Civilization," has been acclaimed the greatest battle picture of all time.

ALHAMBRA.
Tonight.

Expensive all-star casts do not appear to worry the producers of World-Brady Pictures much. They have been appearing in the last few releases with surprising regularity.
The most recent release, "All Man," presents another exceptional cast.
Two young ladies who are both big favorites, and each have large personal followings, have big parts which they present perfectly. These girls are Gerda Holmes and Mollie King.

The two young ladies mentioned above would ordinarily be enough to carry any story of the five thousand foot length. In this play, however, an even bigger star appears. This star is a man for whom the public is daily clamoring and who evidently cannot make pictures fast enough to suit the popular demand—Robert Warwick.

If you enjoy a splendid story, splendidly acted, do not miss seeing the unbeatable combination here offered which will be at the Alhambra theatre tonight.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Marguerite Clark, second to none in popularity among the stars of the screen, is the star in the Famous Players adaptation of the popular fairy tale "Snow White" which is the Paramount Picture at the Alhambra theatre. This is not the first time that Miss Clark has played the charming role of "Snow White" as she was the star of the stage version of the same tale which created a veritable sensation at the Little Theatre in New York under the direction of Winthrop Ames. The photoplay version of the Grim brothers' fairy tale was produced under the direction of J. Searle Dawley whose artistic handling of "Little Lady Eileen," "Mice and Men," and others of Miss Clark's starring vehicles, arouse great expectation for this adaptation of a favorite fairy tale. At the Alhambra theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

MINSTREL BOYS PARTICIPATE IN FINE PIG ROAST

The Elk minstrel committee served a pig roast last evening to all the boys taking part in the forthcoming minstrel. It was prepared under the direction of the club steward, Col. Billy Hohl, and his brother Johnny, and there were side dishes usual with such a feast. It was greatly enjoyed by all present and after the dishes had been cleared away those present indulged in an impromptu program of songs, recitations and vaudeville stunts. The rehearsals, under the direction of H. O. Stanton of Zanesville, are progressing rapidly, and the fifty young men taking part are all splendid singers, some of the best voices in the city being in the chorus. There will be many new and novel features, together with a number of the late song hits. The show will be in keeping with those produced by the Elk order and it will be given at the Auditorium two nights, Wednesday and Thursday, February 14 and 15.

PREPAREDNESS IN BUSINESS UP TO BUSINESS ITSELF

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Philadelphia, Jan. 10.—Business preparedness in the United States is not so much the concern of the government as it is of business itself, Secretary of Commerce Redfield today told the Philadelphia chamber of commerce. The American government, he said, already is doing more than that of any other nation to aid business. "Preparation for conditions to be expected after the war," continued Secretary Redfield, "is not in its most effective form something that the government can do. An official can almost from his broad outlook over the industrial field suggest the presence of the hinges needing correction or alteration. Law is not so much needed to prepare us for the after the war as action, and the action is that which individual concerns can take in handling their own affairs. Just as the war to resume was to resume so the way to prepare is to prepare—not by having somebody else to do it for us, but by doing it ourselves. It is rather a matter of individual and corporate responsibility than of governmental action. "The government has, however, done much to pave the way by the creation of such bodies as the federal trade commission, the federal reserve board, the federal shipping board and the federal tariff commission. It has enacted laws forbidding unfair foreign competition. It has established and is enlarging a great foreign service, the best of its kind in the world, for the direct promotion of American commerce. Through great research laboratories, it is studying and solving the problems that lie behind industry. All statements to the contrary notwithstanding, there is no government in the world that does more, if it does as much, for the aid of business as our own."

POULTRYMEN ARE INTERESTED IN MEETING AT O. S. U.

Columbus, O., Jan. 10.—Poultrymen from all over the state are invited to attend the annual poultry program to be given during Farmers' Week at the Ohio State University at Columbus from January 29 to February 2. Aside from the opportunity to hear addresses, conferences and judging demonstrations by a number of poultry experts, they will have a chance to enter an exhibit of eggs. No cost will be attached to attendance at the sessions or to the entry of eggs, and prizes will be offered in a number of the egg classes. Among the poultrymen who will speak will be W. H. Card, noted poultry judge and breeder of Connecticut; Professor F. S. Jacoby, head of the poultry department of the Ohio State University; and N. C. Kilpatrick, extension specialist in poultry husbandry of the same institution. Special sessions have been arranged for poultry judges and poultry association officers. Instruction will be offered in the feeding of poultry for egg production, incubation, fattening and feeding young chicks, as well as the judging of different poultry breeds including the Rhode Island Red, Plymouth Rock, Leghorn and Wyandotte varieties. In addition to the poultry program, the poultry fanciers will have an opportunity to attend the hundred lectures and demonstrations during the week on various agricultural subjects. A detailed announcement concerning the program of Farmers' Week may be obtained from the Agricultural College Extension Service, Columbus.

SOCIALISTS WANT U-BOAT WAFARE KEPT MINIMUM

Amsterdam, via London, Jan. 10.—The German socialists Vorwaerts association has declared emphatically against unrestricted submarine warfare according to a Berlin dispatch to the Rheinische Westphalische Zeitung of Essen. The dispatch quotes Herr Ebert, a socialist member of the reichstag as saying at a meeting of the organization on Jan. 8: "We expect the German government to leave no stone unturned in support of President Wilson's efforts for peace. On no occasion must our relations with neutrals risk being prejudiced by unrestricted warfare. The social democracy is firmly adhering to the policy outlined in August, 1914."

ANTI-TYPHOID SERUM PROBED BY COURT ORDER

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 10.—The anti-typhoid serum treatment administered to federal troops was the subject of an investigation today by a board of physicians appointed yesterday in U. S. District court at Kansas City, Kansas, by Judge John C. Pollock. Harry De Bord, a letter carrier, had appeared before the judge to plead guilty to a charge of theft from letters, when he collapsed. De Bord's attorneys attributed his condition to serum injections while he was on the border recently with the Kansas troops. Judge Pollock refused to go on with the trial and ordered the investigation. "If the government's serum treatment resulted in illness, it also may have injured his mind," Judge Pollock said. De Bord has been in excellent health for more than two years before going to the border his attorneys declared. Since three injections of serum were given him while on duty there, his asserted, he has been in ill health. The doctors appointed on this investigation board are directed to report to the judge as soon as their work is finished. De Bord, who is 21 years old, was a private in the First Kansas infantry.

farm products to make as much money as when prices were normal. The high cost of production rises even faster than the cost of living. Bulletin received by local farmers show that the Winter Courses will deal particularly with problems in poultry raising, dairy farming, livestock farming, horticulture, vegetable gardening, farm crops, veterinary medicine, etc.

Since a quart of milk has a food value equal to three-fourths pound of beef-steak or eight eggs, dairy products will figure more prominently as a food for everyone, it is claimed. The demand for more economical production of dairy products is shown by the fact that there has been an increase of 700 per cent in dairy-testing associations in Ohio during the past year. Winter courses in dairying at the college of Agriculture will also train men to become testers for associations as well as show how dairy products can be manufactured on the farm.

Have a Clear Complexion and Clean Skin

There is one sure, safe way to avoid a blotchy, pimply skin. A good or bad complexion comes from within. If you want a clear complexion, a clean skin—rosy cheeks and good health, your blood must be pure and the poisonous matter must be carried off. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets assist nature to remove all poisonous waste matter in the system. They act on the liver and bowels like calomel yet have no dangerous after-effects. They are reliable—safe and cannot harm—are used by women folk everywhere. Constipation is nearly always the cause of all ailments of women. The intestines must be made to do their work as nature intended—in a normal way. Have color in your cheeks. Take one or two tablets nightly and note the pleasing results. All druggists—10c and 25c.

DEPUTY WARDEN FRANK DINSMORE PAYS TRIBUTE

"I cheerfully recommend Nerv-Worth for Run-Down People" Declares Coshocton Man. Coming from such a source and in such convincing form, the following statement is certain to attract widespread attention: "While in Columbus some time ago I was persuaded to take a sample dose of Nerv-Worth by the demonstrator, and after the first dose I concluded I'd try a bottle when I got home. "I was tired out and my system was run down. Thought a tonic like Nerv-Worth would do me good, which I found brought the answer. I'm highly pleased with the result and cheerfully recommend Nerv-Worth for run-down people. "FRANK H. DINSMORE," State Deputy Warden, Coshocton. Your dollar back at the T. J. Evans Pharmacy, Newark. BUILDERS TO AID FIRE PREVENTION CAMPAIGN HERE

Deep interest is being manifested in the fire prevention campaign being launched by the Chamber of Commerce. The Builders' Exchange will send a delegation to the meeting of the Membership Council in Chamber headquarters Thursday night. Secretary Ben Retherford has assured the co-operation of the exchange in the movement. The Mercantile Bureau has appointed a committee of three to represent it. The members are J. R. Walters, chairman, Frank D. Hall and T. M. Edmiston. A committee from the Civic Bureau will be named and it is expected that a broad campaign of education will be outlined in which the public and parochial schools will participate. Chief Louis Bausch of the City Fire department conferred yesterday with Chamber officials relative to facts which he will outline at Thursday night's meeting. He is greatly encouraged over the opportunity to enlist the support of the community in this big conservation movement. Any one interested in fire prevention, which eventually leads to lower insurance rates, is invited by Chairman T. C. Helsey of the Membership Council to be present.

MR. CHRISTIAN PAYS TRIBUTE TO GEO. BUCHANAN

It may not be amiss to say a few words in commendation of one of the most faithful employees of the city of Newark ever possessed. George Buchanan began his employment with the water works in the fall of 1885, when the first services were installed. He was the one man, that looked after the distribution system during the entire time it was privately owned. He was known to every consumer of the old company, and what George said about the water works was taken to be a fact. He knew every service, where every gate was located, and at critical times was of incalculable value to the plant. When the city purchased the plant and combined it with its own, naturally George was the ideal man to place in charge of the line work, for he was the best asset the company had. He has worked for us as if working for himself, at any hour of the day or night, rain or shine, in the coldest of zero weather, he was always willing and ready to remedy the troubles that occurred; at times when the younger men stood back and doubted, George worked to complete the necessary repairs. Never grumbling, but always pleasant under trying circumstances, he would rather do it himself than urge someone else. No man ever worked beside him that had not the best of respect for him. Such employees are jewels and their departure will always be missed. If only his example would be followed by all public employees. Out of respect for him, and in order that the employees of the department may attend the funeral services, the office will close Thursday afternoon from 1 to 3 o'clock, the pumping station will close down during the time. W. C. Christian, Director of Public Service.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. You can now get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister. Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin. Just massage Musterole in with the finger tips gently. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears. Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

THE CITIZENS' EFFICIENT GOVERNMENT LEAGUE

Desires That It Be Thoroughly Understood By the Public That Its Interest in the Proposed Charter Movement is Only the Interest of a Body of Representative Men Whose Sole Idea is to Promote Public Welfare. As it is obvious that some person or persons must initiate a project, so this organization was formed around a reformative ideal and it is being pushed to a culmination by men who have given up all party affiliations as regards municipal affairs. Incompetency and narrow-mindedness which has so long militated against the proper management of our city will be relegated to the discard if the citizens will accept the leadership of the men who have been selected as candidates for the difficult and unusual task of writing a new charter for Newark that will, as far as is within the limits of human endeavor, be a document that will compel the chosen authorities to manage our city in an efficient business manner as regards things material, and by no means to the exclusion of higher ideals for civic government. The day of peanut politics is fast waning; the clumsy forms of city government which afflict us have been proved inefficient both for results sought and stand convicted of being incapable of improvement in themselves. Indifferently equipped men continue to be chosen as officials and under the prevailing system the responsibility of failure can be saddled upon no one or on no particular department. And the people pay the costs. In contradistinction, when well equipped men are chosen for office, before they have time to demonstrate their efficiency, the next election often sweeps them out of office. And the public pays again. Under our basic form of government perfection is too much to hope for; mistakes will always be made in a democracy, but the real efficiency of our form of government lies in the privilege of the people to correct their own mistakes. Heretofore we have by means of biased politicians elected other biased politicians who by the nature of the election campaign are powerless to effect reforms; no matter how full of good intentions they might have been before the election. True, a landslide election often "turns the rascals out," then a spasmodic effort is made to correct prevailing abuses. But political promises must be kept; inefficient appointees hold sinecure positions, then eventually the "rascals are turned out" again by an indignant and long-suffering public. We get nowhere this way. Clean and expert men are now being chosen everywhere in all departments from the cabinets of nations to the heads of municipalities, and we interpolate here to observe, that the world would have been much better off, if the method of reform was reversed and the remodeling of government started at the cities and worked upward. It is to these men who are being chosen to purify municipal and national government that the responsibility for good results is put and it is the charge of the people that they must deliver the goods or stand aside forever. This is a plea to the voters on the charter movement to exercise the utmost discretion in this question which will be put to you on March 12. Reliable, conservative, non-partisan and representative men have been selected and recommended to you to write your charter privileges. Men who have no selfish interests who believe in a true representative popular form of government and who have given careful study to and made an exhaustive research of the operations of the different forms of charters, men who will keep faith in giving the endeavor of their careers to write an ideal working charter for the city of Newark.
